GOV. MARSHALL COMING SOON

Indiana's Executive Liked His Former Visit to This Valley so Well He Will Return Again Next Month the Guest of Relatives.

A great many people of this valley will be pleased to know that Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana will arrive here early in February for an indefinite stay. Mr. Marshall is coming as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Kinney of Scottsdale, Mrs. Kinney being his sister, but he will certainly spend much or less of his time in shaking hands with his numerous friends in Phoenix.

Governor Marshall visited here a year or so ago for the first time and made the acquaintance of a great many people. His record as governor had made him a well known man wherever he traveled and his personality is such that none who met him could fail to recognize in him a most worthy and congenial citizen.

Special interest has attached to Governor Marshall for the last year or two as he has been regarded by the democratic party as available timber for presidential purposes and though Wilson, Harmon, Bryan and others are just now a little stronger in the line light, Mr. Marshall has a big roomy stall in the stable where the dark horses are kept.

AMUSEMENTSTHE THREE TWINS

No musical comedy in the last decade made such a strong impression on its opening night as "The Three Twins" and none of them have retained such a firm hold on the public as this fascinating humorous story of real life. With its many scintillating flashes of wit and its delightful musical score it is a refreshing novelty to those who have seen it before and is a positive revelation to those who see it for the first time. Although the old theme of mistaken identity is the basis of the plot, the author has contrived so many new situations and devised so many novelties that it is one constant series of delights. The plot while in a measure intricate, is well worked out and holds the attention of the auditor until the final fall of the curtain. Intensely ludicrous situations follow each other in quick succession, relieved only by the introduction of musical gems that set the audience wild with delight. It is one of those clean, clever comedies that amuses all ages of theatre goers and is always a welcome return visitor. If it were played as a straight comedy it would make a big hit, and now that it is a dainty mosaic of comedy and music, it has such a firm hold on theatre goers that it will be years before it is off the boards. This year the production is entirely new with superb electrical effects, new costumes and elaborate scenery. Elks theater, January 29-30.

Rose Delamater in "Three Twins"

THE COLISEUM.

Patrons of the Coliseum will enjoy a material change of bill this evening, the vaudeville acts being varied and new songs and pictures will be presented. The Youngers will vary their act with a feat never before attempted on any stage; a muscular achievement that seems almost impossible of accomplishment. This act is one of the first of its kind on the stage and for east and grace outshines the best of its competitors. In this connection it may be interesting to know that the Youngers are own cousins of the Younger brothers who with the James boys made after the war history in Missouri particularly lurid. Cole Younger, the sole survivor of the famous trio, is now a respected and useful citizen of Lee's Summit, Missouri.

The Marshalls and Hornberg & Lee will vary their acts and the new pictures will make a very strong attraction for the Saturday and Sunday matinees and the evening program. On Tuesday evening there will be an entire change with one of the strongest vaudeville offerings obtainable.

THE EMPRESS.

No matter how exacting the critic, when measured by the price there was enough of real enjoyable entertainment in the bill at the Empress last evening to please. The Empress Comedy company put on a new farce entitled: "Up in the Mountains." The title suggests a great many pretty situations but the little farcelet must be seen to be appreciated. Happy Jack George and Harris McGuire, assisted by the company and Mrs. Zinn and her chorus make a merry

MEN'S LEAGUE ENTERTAINED

J. M. Clinton Discussed the Development of China and the Ladies of the Church Served Refreshments. A Large Attendance.

The Men's League of the Presbyterian church met last night in the church annex and enjoyed a fine session. The chief event of the program was an address delivered by J. M. Clinton on the three-fold development of China, the physical, mental and moral. Mr. Clinton is field secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for Japanese students in Tokio and has made that city his home for the last seven years. He has had notable opportunity to study the ordinary situation. His address was both entertaining and instructive.

Mr. Clinton and his wife have been here a couple of weeks and will probably remain a couple of weeks longer, the guests of the parents of Mrs. Clinton, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Hanger.

A pleasing solo was given by C. W. Jayne accompanied by Professor Townner of the Arizona School of Music.

The ladies of the church served waffles which are always good but which in this instance were still better. Sixty-one men were present to enjoy both the refreshments and the program.
